Trading Update

OneClickHR, the AIM quoted HR software, training services and solutions provider, is pleased to provide an update on current trading. The Group continues to experience a strong pipeline of sales and has attracted a number of new clients for its software solution HR.Net. These new clients include one of Ireland's leading legal firms, Matheson Ormsby Prentice, an international consultancy business with operations in both the UK and the US and a global commodity broker employing over 4,000 staff.

In addition, the Group's professional services team has seen improving levels of activity as new and existing clients increasingly implement performance management solutions to manage their workforce.

Based on the current level of sales and a strong pipeline, the Group continues to expect a satisfactory result for the year to 31 December 2008.

Frank Beechinor, chief executive officer of OneClickHR, commented:

'HR.net is unique with its flexibility to meet client requirements and we are seeing a definite shift in demand from activities such as e-recruitment towards performance management and workforce productivity. Our solutions will prove critical to our current and potential clients needs in this difficult global economic climate.

Within an organisation, employee data must now evolve quickly. However with a full audit trail of responsibility and review enabled by HR.net relevant decisions can be taken promptly. Clients with HR.net have the ability to deploy changes and new strategies consistently and rapidly and ensure that workforce performance and costs are optimised and efficiently managed.'
